

GUIDELINES ON APPLICATION AND CONSIDERATION OF A LICENCE TO POSSESS A FIREARM FOR HUNTING PURPOSES

1. PURPOSE

The purpose of this document is to provide basic guidelines for applicants who apply to possess a firearm for hunting purposes in terms of section 15 (Occasional Hunting) and section 16 (Dedicated Hunting) of the Firearms Control Act, 2000 as amended (Act No 60 of 2000) (hereinafter “the Act”).

2. INTRODUCTION

2.1 The Act and the Firearms Control Regulations, 2004 provide for different categories of licences to be issued to legally possess firearms in South Africa.

2.2 The different categories specify the specific purpose for which a person can possess a firearm as well as the limitation on the number of firearms that a person may legally possess in South Africa.

2.3 All applications for a licence to possess a firearm are subject to the provision that the applicant must be in possession of a competency certificate issued in terms of the Act. An applicant may however simultaneously apply for a competency certificate and a firearm licence.

3. APPLICABLE LEGISLATION

3.1 As from 1 July 2004 a natural person may apply to possess a firearm for hunting purposes in terms of section 15 (Occasional Hunting) and section 16 (Dedicated Hunting) of the Act.

Section 15 of the Act reads as follows:

“(1) A firearm in respect of which a licence may be issued in terms of this section is any –

- (a) handgun which is not fully automatic;
- (b) rifle or shotgun which is not fully or semi-automatic; or
- (c) barrel, frame or receiver of a handgun, rifle or shotgun contemplated in paragraph (a) or (b) and which is not a restricted firearm.”

3.2 An applicant may only possess four firearms which is inclusive of a firearm for self-defence (section 13) and an additional licence for a firearm (section 12).

3.3 A person may not hold more than one licence in respect of a handgun contemplated in section 15(1)(a) of the Act.

3.4 A firearm in respect of which a licence has been issued in terms of section 15 of the Act may be used where it is safe to use the firearm and for a lawful purpose.

Section 16 of the Act reads as follows:

“(1) A firearm in respect of which a licence may be issued in terms of this section is any –

- (a) handgun which is not fully automatic;
- (b) rifle or shotgun which is not fully automatic;
- (c) any semi-automatic shotgun manufactured to fire no more than five shots in succession without having to be reloaded;
or
- (d) barrel, frame or receiver of a handgun, rifle or shotgun contemplated in paragraph (a) or (b)”

3.5 A firearm in respect of which a licence has been issued in terms of section 16 of the Act may be used where it is safe to use the firearm and for a lawful purpose”.

- 3.6 Regulation 13 of the Firearms Control Regulations, 2004 regulates the general provisions regarding the requirements applicable when a person applies for a licence to possess a firearm for hunting purposes in terms of the Act.
